WIN 3 EXQUISITE DRESSES FROM HUCKLEBONES!!

December 2, 2009

I'm really excited about this give-away. I have a particular fondness for Hucklebones - do you remember I raved about the lovely yellow coat last winter from Hucklebones' first collection, or that I was so pleasantly surprised to see the exquisite pieces in their second one?
For their third collection, Zoe and Dan of Hucklebones have outdone themselves again. Luxurious materials (pure silk, wool, cashmere, super soft jersey) printed with designs that are especially created for the season, all in highly original, classic cuts with an interesting twist. Any little girl would look absolutely darling in these creations!

Hucklebones is kindly giving away all three of the dresses (pictured above) from their winter collection to one lucky Babyccino reader. I'm sure you know a little princess (or three) who would love to wear one of these darling dresses, just in time for the holidays.

The following dresses are available in sizes 2yr, 3yr and 4yr and have a total retail value of £264.00 (!!):
- The Big Bow Dress (100% silk with a Hucklebones designed print)
- The Bluebird Frill Placket Dress (90% pure wool, 10% cashmere, woven in Scotland)
- The Matchstick Forest Dress (supersoft jersey with a Hucklebones designed print)

Just leave a comment below by December 16th and we'll pick one lucky winner at random. Oh, one more thing. In order to be able to win you have to be a subscriber to our daily email!!

Good luck!!!

xxx Esther

P.S. Congratulations to Amanda in Australia who won the last give-away: The Naturalmat mattress and bedding pack!
