

HOMETOWN TULIPS

MAY 1, 2012

Happy May Day! I know I shared tulip photos last year, but couldn't resist sharing some new ones from this year. Once again, my dad and his girlfriend climbed to the top of their house and took photos of the surrounding fields. So pretty! I grew up in that house surrounded by tulip fields. I used to ride my horse up and down those fields. I even got married in the muddy tulip fields! Such a special part of my childhood.

Anyway, just wanted to share. (Thank you to my dad's girlfriend, Suze Jungeman, for the photos!) And don't you love the chicken tip-toeing through the tulips?!
