

MAISON INDIGO

JULY 26, 2012

After a busy weekend in Paris last week for Playtime, I went to the Kleine Fabriek (the Amsterdam children's trade fair) the day after - and one of the discoveries I definitely wanted to share with you are these super sweet characters made from recycled denim by Maison Indigo. This fox, anteater and elephant are handmade by disabled people in a small 'social atelier' here in the Netherlands and I think they are just so perfectly adorable! Maison Indigo doesn't have a functioning webshop just yet but to order you can just email Myriam here.
