

PAUMES BOOKS: COLOR INSPIRATION

SEPTEMBER 20, 2012

Last month I wrote about the Japanese Paumes books. These books are so inspiring - every page is full of great ideas. I decided to start a series where I pick an image or room in one of the books and do a project or design a space based on the inspiration.

The inspiration for this month is the awe inspiring home of stylist Susanna Vento featured in Finland children's spaces. I love the peachy/pink color scattered in parts of her daughter's room so much I decided to paint something in my house that color.

I found this great set of wooden mushrooms (I collect mushrooms), primed them, and then mixed two paint colors together; acrylic white and craftsmart's Neon Orange. This was such an easy and fun project. I hope you enjoy!

- Meta

Category: Children's spaces, Crafts, D cor

META IN UTAH | 5 COMMENTS
