

CAMBRIDGE SATCHELS

NOVEMBER 27, 2012

Have you heard of Cambridge Satchels? I know I am a bit behind the times, but now I am obsessed with these simple satchels that come in the greatest colours known to mankind. I think they look so simple and vintage, but can dress up any outfit. It is the kind of handbag in which neither a laptop nor a nappy would look out of place! You can even have initials embossed on the satchel: perfect for a Christmas present.

By the way, the story behind these satchels is equally great. The company was started by a mom and a grandmother around a kitchen table with very little cash but a great vision. It is so inspiring to see this kind of business succeed!
