

CHILDS FARM TOILETRIES

JANUARY 15, 2013

We have recently discovered the Childs Farm range of children's toiletries, and the kids and I are both happy we did. Ivy thinks the shampoo smells like lollipops and that the conditioner has magical powers because it makes the tangles go away (we've never used conditioner before, so she's especially impressed). The Childs Farm products are paraben-free and all made in the UK with natural and organic ingredients, and they really do smell good. You can buy the products directly from their shop, or you can see here for stockists.

Update: Joanna from Childs Farm just wrote to say that any of our readers can receive a 20% discount on the Childs Farm products from now until the end of January. Just enter code BABYKIDS at check-out.
