

VINTAGE FISHER PRICE TOYS

JANUARY 21, 2013

Ava and her little friend got in a pretty bad argument the other day. It's not pretty to witness two 2 ½ year olds fighting over a Fisher Price cash machine! But I understand where they come from - that cash machine is one of the coolest toys I remember from my childhood, together with the Fisher Price phone, the pull dog and the farm. Oh, and the toy xylophone! I still have my own Fisher Price farm at my dad's place (see photo), and each time we visit my kids play with it. Especially Ava is at the age where she really loves it. Sadly, I never owned the cash machine, but I'm very tempted to get one! For her, not for me, obviously - *wink*. (Three Potato Four has some vintage Fisher Price toys in store at the moment.) Did you own Fisher Price toys as well as a child, and which one was your favourite?
