

BEAT THE JANUARY (AND FEBRUARY) BLUES!

JANUARY 25, 2013

Last Monday was apparently 'Blue Monday' - the most depressing day of the whole year! Courtney and I are always complaining about January and February months here in Northern Europe - it's dark, cold, wet, the kids are sick and there is not a lot to look out to. Well, on Blue Monday, I put up a few pom-poms in front of our living room window to brighten things up a bit, and it had an instant happyfying result. The pom-poms are available from Visje bij de Thee - along with many more gorgeous products that would make my January/February blues melt in an instant. I also made this quick Lemon Poppyseed Drizzle cake, and treated myself to some some new Marimekko coffee cups. We've got to do what we can, don't we?! What's the weather like where you are??
