

DALA BAKING TINS FROM IKEA

February 22, 2011

I have visited Ikea quite a bit recently - something I both love & hate. I love that you can fill a trolley, spend a £100 and really feel like you're getting your home in order. I hate that every time I go I lose someone (last time I lost my Mum for 45 minutes - imagine, if you will, a thirty-something woman approaching the info-desk with the words ?I've lost my Mum!?).

Anyway, are they stepping up their bakeware or am I just slow on the uptake? I was really impressed with their baking accessories, cupcake papers and doilies. I couldn't resist these Dala horse \(Mama & Baby\) bake tins - so cute! I baked Courtney's famous carrot cake in them over the weekend, which has become a favourite recipe in our household. However, my only problem was getting the cake out in the end - does anyone have a great cake recipe that is meant to be baked in a tin like this and therefore slips out?

-Mo. x

Category: Home, Kitchen, Recipes, Utensils

---

MO IN LONDON | 6 COMMENTS

---