

THE ROYAL WEDDING

April 27, 2011

Have you caught Royal Wedding fever yet? The wedding is this Friday! I haven't really paid any attention to it... but everyone I know is starting to get excited about it (my mom even came to town for the event!). Every store front in London is devoted to the wedding, and there are commemorative gifts and objects available to buy everywhere (my mom came home the other day with a deck of cards, each card with a different photo of Wills and Kate - too funny!). Here are a couple of my favourites.

- Of course I love the Keep Calm It's Only A Wedding print - funny!
- I also really love the William and Kate tea towel available on Etsy
- And of course Belle and Boo have made something beautiful as well - I love their Royal Party Parade Poster!

Do you know of any other good commemorative gifts?
