

A LITTLE LOLLIPOP WILL GO A LONG WAY...

JULY 18, 2008

Now I'm sure this will be frowned upon by some of my more patient peers, but a lollipop is a sure bet for keeping my boys happy (seated, quiet, belted) on an airplane, especially at those crucial moments like take-off and landing...

Give your kids a wrapped lollipop and it will give you at least 15 minutes of quiet time: five minutes to get the wrapper off, and then at least 10 to enjoy their lolly!

You can even buy sugar-free lollipops these days, which are better for their teeth, and they can't tell the difference! Oh lolly, lolly, lolly, lollipop!!
