

BLANKIE

MAY 6, 2009

With a granddad who divides his time between houses in

Belgium and France, grandparents and a (tiny) weekend house in the south of the country, and friends all over Europe, our little family is on the go pretty much every weekend. I must say that we're becoming quite handy at getting everything organized: clothes, laundry, toiletries, food, etc.

My daughter asks every morning to what country we'll go today!

I find this Blankie a really handy addition to our 'on the go' lifestyle. It's the perfect size for the kids. They use it in the car, on the couch, for playing and camping in the garden, etc. It's great because it's warm, fluffy and soft but it rolls up to a tiny package and is very light. It is also conveniently machine washable, and I find it handy to have around for little guests.
