

ACME PARTY BOX COMPANY

OCTOBER 18, 2010

There are some really great blogs around of very talented designers who do nothing better than throw the most beautiful, picture-perfect parties. I love looking at these blogs and imagining that I too one day will be so organized that I can pull together such a feat - that I will be on time with printed invites (for once!), that the birthday cake will be made the day before (and perfect), that the table will be perfectly decorated, and that the favour bags are home sewn and filled with cute, usable objects that are earth friendly on top of it. And that I wear a pretty dress, my hair looks nice and I have some make-up on for crying out loud!

If you're like me, and love a pretty party but are somehow too busy, un-organized, or maybe not creative enough to organize your own, I suggest you tun to Acme Party Box NOW. How cute, HOW CUTE, are these party supplies? I can't get over it - if only I knew about them before!! Think about it - the only thing you need to do is order a box! Everything you need for a perfect party is included - the favours, the crowns, the table setting, decorations, invitations... And trust me, it's all SO cute and thoughtfully put together, you can't possibly not be impressed! Beautiful fabrics, Holtztiger animals for centre pieces, little jars with straws for glasses, soy wax candles for the cake, and so forth... And, unlike the many plastic party goods that end up in the trash, the Acme products can be re-used over and over again (or composted).

I think the woodland theme is my favourite...
