

TG GREEN SPECIAL EDITION MUGS

MAY 4, 2011

Some people spend their life searching for the holy grail. I spend my life searching for the perfect mug. I was brought up with the belief that a cup of tea is a remedy to anything from a common cold to a broken heart. All the politicians out there take note: sitting down with a good cup of tea will pretty much solve the world's problems!

So as you might be able to guess, I have tea making down to a fine art and I reckon the receptacle of the tea is almost as important as the tea itself! I don't like fussy, little china cups or mugs with silly logos on them. My mugs need to be substantial but not too big - the result is cold tea. Check out these mugs from TG Green: Perfect! I love the colour twist from the classic cornish blue pottery. I think having a good cup of tea out of the bright yellow strippy mug is going to make me happy!
