

THE MAXI MICRO SCOOTER

JUNE 11, 2012

After years and years of daily use and fun, Pim sadly outgrew his beloved Mini Micro scooter (we put one of the sweet O-bars on it so it's now Ava's scooter, and she's loving it!). Pim without a scooter wouldn't be Pim, so we got him the Mini Micro's big brother, the very cool Maxi Micro. My friend Joanna, the owner of Micro-step.nl, advised me to go for the 'Joystick' instead of the 'T-bar', and after one minute of getting used to it Pim scooters (is that what you call it?) like he never did before, and he even wants us to go to the skateboard stunt field (or whatever THAT is called, you can see I'm at a loss here) all the time. My little boy is getting big, and so is his scooter!

Do your kids have scooters? I really find them fantastic - fun to play with, and such a great way of transportation!
