

SHOPUP TOTE BAGS!

NOVEMBER 12, 2013

The ShopUp is now less than 3 weeks away and we're in the final countdown. Esther came to London last week and we spent two days ironing out all the details and making final preparations. We spent nearly an entire day at the venue going over all the logistics and getting super excited as we planned everything out. It's really going to be a great event - we can't wait to fill that space with all of our amazing shops, and of course all of our wonderful visitors!!

The tote bags have also arrived! What do you think? Aren't they cool? We'll be handing one out for every visitor who attends the event. So come and get yours on December 1st and 2nd!

p.s. We ordered the totes from BIDBI and they have been really great to work with, and we're really pleased with the final result. BIDBI offers eco-friendly, fairly traded cotton and canvas bags. We got the Deluxe Canvas Bags and they're nice and thick with long straps, and they're spacious enough to fill with lots of great gifts and goodies. (We can't wait to fill our own totes!)
